

WIFE CAN'T PASS MAN INTO HEAVEN, BILLY DECLARES

Don't Let "For Rent" Sign
Hang on Your Mansion

Your wife may be the best Christian on earth, but she can't take you to Heaven unless you deserve it, Billy Sunday told the men who were among his hearers this afternoon.

Billy's text was "thou shalt not be married for thy seat will be empty."

He said in part:

"Some one may take your place when you are gone, but no one can do what God planned for you."

"You take the loved ones out of your home and it will be just like a sepulchre, regardless of your fine rugs, tapestries, bric-a-brac and finery. I could take Neil and the babies and live in a hut and be happy, but I would take them away from me and I would cry myself to death."

"It is inspiring to think that when God planned this universe, He planned a special place for you and for me. He had to consider all the crooks and turns you and I would take, like a billiard player studies the possible course of a ball."

"God never planned for prisons, the electric chair, scaffolds, red lights or saloons. God never planned hell for man. He planned it for the devil and his followers, so if you're fool enough to serve the devil you will go to the abode of the devil."

"God has a final place for us in the heavenly home. Let's see that we get it. Your name is on God's list. Don't let the devil rent it out. Don't let God hand a 'For Rent' sign on the mansion prepared for you in Heaven."

"It's a sad thing to walk around and see a 'for rent' sign in heaven."

"What's that, for, Lord?"

"Oh, planned that for a New York man, but he was too busy trying to make money."

"God fills the earth with blessings for us and all He wants in return is an expression of our faith and if you don't give it, you are a miserable wretch. Some men think that because they are married to a woman who is a good Christian, they will go to Heaven. Oh, no! Your wife can't fill your place."

"In my Father's house are many mansions. There is room there for each of us. Your name and mine are on the list. Don't let the devil snatch them out. Don't lose your heavenly home."

PROTESTS TERMS OF PARK GIFT BY ROCKEFELLER

Institute of Public Service Objects to Supervision by the Palisades Commission.

A protest was sent to Mayor Mitchell today by the Institute of Public Service against the terms laid down by John D. Rockefeller, Jr. in his offer of a fifty-acre $2,000,000 tract in upper Manhattan for park purposes. It is stipulated in the offer that the park shall be under the supervision of the Interstate Palisades Park Commission and not the city.

Despite the fact that the city is asked to give $20,000 for the development of the park and to support legislation authorizing the State to appropriate $100,000 for other developments.

"Only trouble, expense and confusion can result from having a substantial part of New York City's park system subject to an Interstate Commission," says the protest. "Nor would it help matters if the Palisades Park Commission were a single State rather than Interstate Commission."

"There is no more reason for having this particular park under Interstate control than for having Prospect Park or Washington Square or Riverside under external control."

The tract offered by Mr. Rockefeller lies between Broadway and the Hudson River, from about One Hundred and Ninety-third Street on the south to about Dyckman Street on the north, including the Billings, Hays and Schaefer estates.

PRINCETON HONORS AMBASSADORS OF ALLIED POWERS

Secretary of State Lansing
Shares With Them Title

PRINCETON, N. J., June 16.—The celebration of the 170th annual commencement of Princeton University today was a patriotic ceremony. By request all of the undergraduates and alumni who were entitled to do so, wore military dress. The only means of distinguishing between the various classes was some small button or hat band.

All the Ambassadors and Ministers now representing the Allied nations at Washington, as well as the Secretary of State and the recently appointed National Food Commission received honorary degrees of L.L.D. The degrees were conferred on the steps of Nassau Hall, the recipients being Sir Cecil Arthur Spring-Rice, Ambassador from Great Britain; M. Jean Jusserand, Ambassador from France; Count Vincenzo Macchi di Cellere, Ambassador from Italy; Aimaro Sato, Ambassador from Japan; M. de Cartier de Marchienne, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from Belgium, and Viscount de Aite, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from Portugal.

Owing to the state of war the programme was greatly reduced this year. The celebration is to end with the Baccalaureate sermon by President John Greer Hibben to-morrow morning.

The commencement exercises took place in Alexander Hall, and the diplomas were awarded before a throng of friends and admirers. A short speech of presentation was made by President Hibben to admonish the men not to forget their parts in this crisis of the Nation.

In Alexander Hall the following degrees of doctor were conferred: Doctor of Philosophy, Charles William Hendel Jr., Louis Max Hickernell, William Edwin Hoy Jr., Frederick Henry Martin, Gilbert Stuart Robertson, Frank Meyers Seibert, Henry Van Weser, Shirley Howard Weber, Thomas John Whipple and Ralph Bailey Fawcett.

Doctor of Science: William Miller Howard.
